The largest entering class in the history of the College of Pharmacy enrolled in September, 1929. Alphans C. Edmunds was elected president and proved a popular leader, being unanimously re-elected each succeeding year. The other class officers are: Marcus Schwartz, vice-president; Ruth Whyard, secretary, and Clarence Wisniewski, treasurer.

During the first two years, the class was more or less interested in the activities of the Literary school. The senior year, however, brought a desire for recognition and, under the leadership of the class, a reorganization of the college student government was accomplished.

Several social functions were sponsored during the year. The students of all the colleges were invited to the annual Pharmacy College matinee dance. A trip to the Eli Lilly Pharmaceutical House in Indianapolis was arranged and was well attended, as was the annual Parke, Davis & Company outing and dinner. The outstanding event of the year was a dinner and theatre party arranged for the entire college by the senior class. It was a huge success and plans were laid to make it a traditional event.

Under the leadership of the following officers, President, Clarence Mumma; Vice-President, Alice Baldwin; Secretary, Jean Hughes; Treasurer, Howard Hess, and Student Council Representatives, Mary Barrett, William Baldwin, and David Eric Wilson, the Junior Class of this year has undertaken an active extra-curricular program. It has had, as its primary interest, the arousal of class spirit among its members and, with this in mind, the Junior Women’s and Junior Men’s Councils were organized to form a nucleus from which the spirit of initiative and cooperation could emanate.

The efforts of the Junior Women during the first semester were focused on the successful production of “Tsk! Tsk! Tsk!” an original Musical Comedy, presented November 20 and 21, in the Institute of Arts Auditorium. In the second semester the Women’s Council sponsored the traditional Junior Tea in honor of Senior Women; this was held at the Women’s Federation Building, April 28.

The Men’s Council concentrated on financing the erection of a large modern scoreboard at Kelsey Athletic Field.

Turning to school activities, the class united in accepting the responsibility for the production of the 1932 Griffin, under the management of James J. Dunnigan.

In a social way also the class of ’33 has enlarged its program. Dances were sponsored by both the Women’s and Men’s Councils. Climaxing the social year was the J-Hop, held in the Crystal Ballroom of the Masonic Temple, February 12. Charles Marchel was chairman of the committee, with Florence Bagual, Gertrude Ollicka, Louis Esterling, Edward Sauble, Allen Davidson, and David Eric Wilson assisting him.

Realizing the benefits derived from class as well as school activities, the Junior Class earnestly hopes that future classes may carry on the enterprises which it has sought to promote.

Sophomore Class History

Officers

- Vice-President: Dorothy Irwin
- Secretary: Margaret Love
- Treasurer: Frederick Piggins

William Rieman, president, assisted by Dorothy Irwin, vice-president, Margaret Mary Love, secretary, and Fred Piggins, treasurer, directed the Sophomore Class through a splendid year. Julian Tobias and Clifford Wolfe were Student Council representatives.

The active class policy established during the Freshman year was continued. Early in October was "Soph Week," during which all members of the class were identified by tags, yellow with black '34's. In spite of the remarkable class spirit and the strength displayed while harassing the Frosh during the first weeks of the term, the Sophomores lost the Class Games.

An enthusiastic crowd attended the Soph Barn Dance, held in Hardesty's barn, Friday, November 13. The annual Soph Prom was given November 25, at the Masonic Temple, with Bert Stock's orchestra playing. Harry Lange, general chairman, was assisted by a large committee.

The Sophomore Cabinet, a group of twenty women, was a vital factor in promoting a friendly and social class spirit. To the cabinet dance in December, Sophomore women and their guests were invited. The climaxing activity of the group came March 19, when three hundred attended the popular Soph Leap Year Dance, sponsored by the Cabinet.

In forensic affairs, also, the class of '34 excelled. It is proud to claim David Goldman, champion orator, as one of its number. The Sophomore team, composed of Stanley Burns and Julian Tobias, was runner-up in the inter-class debate series.

Many sophomores were prominent in athletics, both varsity and intramural. The second year men took third place in inter-class basketball and track.

The class hopes to continue to display the fine spirit and enthusiasm so evident this year.

Class History

CHOOSING as leaders Vaughn Pierce, president; Daisy Donald, vice-president; Russell, Armstrong, secretary; Nathaniel Share, treasurer, and Edward Downs, Student Council representative, the class of '35 began an intensive program. The Freshman Commission, with Daisy Donald as president and Jean Crawford as secretary, was immediately organized to cooperate with the A. W. S. The other members of the commission were Eleanor Anderson, Lois Bricker, Lillian Cassie, Winifred Comport, Irene Duncan, Mabel Edstrom, Henrietta Fairchild, Patricia Graham, Esther Henks, Violet Hill, Helen Leflon, Esther Lowenberg, Helen Mayhew, Norma Nash, Mary Dyer Pandy, Adeline Sae, Winfred Smith, and Dorothy Tryon.

The Freshmen proved their ability by defeating the Sophomores in the Class Games at Belle Isle. This led to a series of victories in the various fields of endeavor. The class was unusually well represented in the fields of debating, scholarship, athletics, and organizations. The Frosh debaters, Edward Downs and Milton Rahinowitz, were successful in winning the inter-class cup.

The Frosh Flurry, under the leadership of Harvey Berkey, was given at the Masonic Temple, April 15, with Russ Morgan and his orchestra playing.

THE MEN OF the College of the City of Detroit have long felt the need for the common ground of meeting of college men, the Union. Funds for the purpose of erecting a Union building had been bequeathed to the College by the late David Mackenzie, first dean of the College, but it was not until 1931 that conditions were considered favorable to make further plans. In that year a board of directors was formed and a constitution was drawn up. The aim of the Mackenzie Union, so named in honor of the first dean, is to serve as a center for students, alumni and faculty, where they may meet informally and profit through cooperation and friendship.

SIGMA RHO TAU of the College of the City of Detroit is affiliated with the like organization which had its origin at the University of Michigan in 1930.

On January 30, 1932, the negative debating team (Zimmerman, Davis, Turnquist), defeated the Detroit Institute of Technology on the proposition, “Resolved, That a board of experienced engineers revise the engineering curriculum toward more cultural lines.”

On March 18, 1932, the affirmative team (Hess, Davis, Zimmerman), defeated the University of Michigan chapter on the same proposition. In April and May the debating teams competed against the D. I. T., Michigan State College, and the University of Michigan on the subject of St. Lawrence Waterways.

Alpha Theta Sigma
This local sorority early attained the title of the Starvation Club. The surest way to reduce is to become an Alpha Theta Sigma. When the victims join, they are padded out like a mattress, but, when they are graduated, their ribs protrude. They believe in getting in the limelight, and although there are a few notable in this aggregation, the majority are grazing in the cellar of the Hall of Fame. The most that can be said of this breed is that there seems to be plenty of variety. "Peepun," the red-headed debu­tenante, is going to Europe to bring back some fatted calves.

Sigma Sigma
The majority of this book-ticketing crew are too busy with their Lit and French to break windows in the Social Structure, but there are some black sheep in every flock. These gals entered campus activities as a debating organization, but all their efforts now seem to be devoted to throwing the animal to conceal their cranial capacities. If it were not for the heroic efforts of the Y. W. C. A., with its free movies to keep the girls in town on Saturday nights, the whole sisterhood would be on the downward path.

Zeta Chi
We now come to the abode of the Z X's, that branch of cistern with the anti-tea-room atmosphere. This group would have ceased to exist if it were not for the Ruel family, who contributed a delegate. Unfortunately, the organization appears to be in a flourishing condition, and so it is able to disturb the peace of the Green and Gold Coffee Bar. The sister Zetas think nothing of playing basketball with the coffee urn. Not all the Zeta Chi's aspire to be musicians, but all seem to be prominent in some form of community torture.

Now we come to a singular collection of squirrel food, who dwell apart from the common herd, that their impenetrable rackets may not disturb lovers of the peace. During the “open season” these gals set their smooth traps, and many a Fresh who thinks that she is wise to the game is knocked out in during her four-year smore.

Here begins sholker and mud slinging!

Seniors—Pass Out in Style!

Thousands of seniors (well, several anyway) have asked us how to be sure of getting a Chevrolet Six for graduation. Suggestions spring from our typewriter like moths from summer flannels.

Work the word Chevrolet into all your letters home—and write often. Intimate that too much walking is giving you a permanent Charley horse. Have the car sent to your home on approval, disguised as a set of the Harvard Classics. Or even—and this idea is practically infallible—ask for one point—blank.

It really isn’t much to ask for, you know, from a purely mercenary standpoint. Chevrolet prices are among the lowest at which any car sells. And upkeep—well, we’re certainly glad you asked about that, for Chevrolet’s upkeep economy is positively unexcelled! But, for all that, the new Chevrolet Six is just about the smartest thing on wheels, and possesses all the speed and power you’ve wanted for, lo, these many years. What’s more, the combination of Synchro-Mesh gear-shifting and Free Wheeling makes for thrilling new driving ease.

Right now, when you are actually about to fulfill the hopes of your fond parents, is a splendid time to broach this subject. If you doubt your oratorical powers, pour out your heart in a letter. After all, you might as well get useful good from all those rhetoric courses.

Gentle readers—is your patience exhausted? Then gaze upon these two daughters of the corn-swept fields of the college campus. The blanket is an heirloom that this girl got from the Patches—the Patches is an Indian tribe, now extinct (the gag is up—they went back to college). The sun-burned maiden with the tree in her mouth is the sister of Elmer Zilch. The contest is open—who is she?

Why, you darn fool, she's the sister of Elmer Zilch.

Far up in the Northland there stands a rock. It is fifty miles high and a thousand miles broad, but, since that has nothing to do with this at all, we might just as well leave it out. We must face the facts—where are the people in this picture? Nobody cares except everyone who reads this book, so we may as well leave that out too.

The Poem that made Edwin Markham turn gray

Bowed by the weight of books, he leans Upon his girl and gazes on the ground. The emptiness of ages in his face, And on his back a burlap sack. Who made him dead to "Chem" and "Calculus" A thing that grieves not and that never hopes. Stolid and stunned, a brother to a frat? Who loosened and let down this brutal jaw? Whose was the hand that slanted back his hair? (ah, ha!) What familiar breath is this that blows?

A SHE SQUARE WEARS CUT DIAMOND

Not simply because it is the modern thing to do, but because she feels it more accurately expresses the age... she is eager for new beauty. Her sleek motor car is a masterpiece of automotive engineering, not because she is reluctant to appear old-fashioned but because she finds its streamlined luxury more effective... she responds to the quickened tempo. And by such things we know her, this young modern, for she expresses her own age and not her grandmother's. Today's book must mirror today's spirit. It must have a new beauty... a quickened tempo.

For some, such an objective presents unsurmountable difficulties. There are others who find such an objective more interesting than difficult. To be sure, it is easier to continue producing books distinguishable from their predecessors only by the date of their copyrights, easier, yes, but terribly tiresome, we think.

“...Builders of School and College Publications”

THAT phrase describes the activities of Heitman-Garand Company.

It means that each year there is great co-ordinated effort toward creating even finer school publications.

It means that the School Staff may anticipate and realize sure, dependable "first aid"... and "last aid", too... in the building of a satisfactory annual.

The assistance Heitman-Garand are prepared to offer is not readily obtainable from every printer.

Fertile years devoted to gaining experience and training in building school annuals are of the necessary requisites before genuine assistance can be assured.
