The papers of Roy M. Brown were deposited with the Archives of Labor History and Urban Affairs in September 21, 1970 by Roy M. Brown.

Roy M. Brown was born in Malvern, Arkansas, November 20, 1906. He and his family migrated first to New Mexico and in August of 1910 settled in Phoenix, Arizona. From the time he was thirteen he worked during his school vacations at the Arizona Eastern Railroad Company roundhouse. He served his apprenticeship as a machinist in the railroad shops. At varying periods in the twenties he also worked for mining companies in the state of Arizona.

Roy M. Brown married in 1928 and moved to California. The next year, while in San Pedro, California, he worked as an automotive machinist. Brown joined the Machinists (I.A.M.) of Long Beach, California in September of 1935. In February of 1936 the Lodge #1484 was chartered for San Pedro and Wilmington, California. Brown became the first recording secretary of this Lodge. During this same period he also served as Business Representative of the newly formed Lodge #1126. In 1938 he helped organize and served as president of the first California Conference of Machinists.

On November 1, 1939, Brown was appointed to the position of Grand Lodge Representative for the International Union. He became a General Vice President of the I.A.M. in 1942. AT that time he was the youngest I.A.M. member to serve on the Executive Council. He continued in that position until June 30, 1961.

As Vice President he served the area known as the Southwestern States Territory. This included Arizona, California, Hawaii, Nevada, New Mexico, and El Paso County, Texas.

His scope of responsibilities were varied. In 1943 he began to organize the I.A.M. in the aircraft industry. He also participated in the War Labor Board Hearings conducted by Paul Porter. His representative and bargaining positions were not limited to the aircraft and missile industry in the United States for he worked to improve relationships between labor in Canada, Latin America, and Israel.

In 1959, Brown fought against a change in the I.A.M. constitution. Following this dispute Brown decided to run for the office of the General Secretary Treasurer. He lost the election. Several I.A.M. Grand Lodge representatives who supported Roy M. Brown were dismissed from their positions after the election. Because of their dismissal a successful suit against the I.A.M. by Roy M. Brown and nine of the dismissed members followed.

THE ROY M. BROWN COLLECTION

The Roy M. Brown Collection contains reports, addresses, minutes, etc. on many of the significant movements in the I.A.M. including: factional disputes, U.A.W-I.A.M. agreements, and labor relations. It also contains information which reflects on Roy M. Brown, himself and his service to the Histadrut campaign, A.I.D., and the rehabilitation of the industrially injured.
