

THE ARTHUR W. CALHOUN COLLECTION

Papers, 1899-1975
27 1/2 linear feet

Accession Number 503

Professor Arthur W. Calhoun (1885-1978) placed his papers in the Archives of Labor and Urban Affairs in 1971, and additions were made during the next four years. They were opened for research in 1983.

Born on January 29, 1885, in Dayton, Pennsylvania, Professor Calhoun was an author, scholar, and teacher at an extraordinarily large number of American Colleges. He received his BA in 1906 from the University of Pittsburgh; his MA from the University of Wisconsin, in 1913, and a PhD from Clark University in 1916. He did additional graduate work at Columbia University. He was the author of many published books, including the Social History of the American Family, 3 vols., 1916-1919; The Worker Looks at Government, 1927, The Social Universe, 1932; Social Regeneration, 1945; The Cultural Concept of Christianity, and others. He was a contributor to and he wrote short books such as American Labor Dynamics, 1928; The New Generation, 1930; Behold America, 1931; and The Early American Family, 1932. He also published other monography and many articles.

Professor Calhoun taught English and Philosophy at New Windsor College, Md., 1906-07; Latin and History at St. Petersburg, Florida, High School, 1907-09; German and History at Florida State College for Women, 1910-11; Social Science at Lenox College, Ia., 1912-13 and at Maryville College, Tenn., 1913-15. He became a Fellow in Sociology at Clark University, 1916-18, when he received his doctorate, then Assistant Professor of Economics.

He was Assistant Professor of Sociology at The University of Kentucky, 1918-19; Teacher of Cooperatives at The Rand School of Social Science, 1920-21; Professor of Economics at Grove City College, Pa., 1921-22; Teacher of Latin and Spanish, Orlando, Fla., Jr. High School; 1922-23; Teacher of Social Science at Brookwood Labor College, Katonah, N.Y., 1923-29; Professor of History, Limestone College, S.C., 1929-32; Professor of German and Greek, Erskine College, S.C., 1933-36; Dean of Sterling College; Sterling, Kansas, 1936-55, Professor of Sociology, Illinois College, 1957-58; and Professor of Social Science, Cloflin College, 1958.

In addition, Professor Calhoun was a summer visiting Professor at the University of Pittsburgh, 1907; Ohio State University, 1919; Alabama College, 1923, 1924 and 1928; Asheville Summer School, 1930; Winthrop College, 1931; University of Wisconsin, 1933-38; and Friends University, 1944. He was active in Workers' Education in many places. He was a lifelong active Christian and wrote many articles and monographs on that subject as well as on economics and sociology.

Because of his socially radical opinions or because of his pacifist beliefs, and also because he could not in conscience sign any loyalty oaths, Professor Calhoun lost or never attained many positions, although he was well known as a superb teacher and successful author.

The Arthur W. Calhoun Collection

He married Mildred Tourtellot in 1916, and was the father of two sons, Dr. Donald Wallace Calhoun, (1917-) a sociologist, and Dr. Robert Allan Calhoun (1921-), a health specialist and social worker. Professor Calhoun died in 1978.

The Calhoun papers are comprised of his personal reminiscences, biographical materials, correspondence with friends and colleagues, his student papers, his lecture notes, subject files, and, mostly, the manuscripts of his writings. For some of Professor Calhoun's personal letters and other material about him, please consult the Clarice Campbell Collection. This collection reflects his personal views on many subjects, during his last decade.

Important subjects in the collection include:

Brookwood Labor College	Radicalism
Classical Learning	Religion
General Humanities	Social Psychology
Gerontology	Social Theories
History of The Family	Socialism
History (Academic)	Sociology
Marxian Economics	Workers Education
Writings of Arthur W. Calhoun

Important correspondents include:

Heinrich Bergmann	Edward A. Ross
Clarice Campbell	Eunice Stackhouse
Mary & Floyd Dill	Aubrey Williams
Stanley Dziengielowski	William Zeuch
A.J. Muste

Many notable correspondents who have only a letter or two are included; please see the index for names. The correspondence, however infrequent, is often remarkable in subject content.

Contents

55 manuscript boxes

Series I, I-A. Personal Life and Professional Career, Boxes 1-4:

Biographical and career material, including Professor Calhoun's unpublished autobiography in several forms; his dissertation manuscript, reviews of his books, testimonials and other personal papers.

I-B. Correspondence, Boxes 5-8:

Correspondence by date; letters on controversies, letters from colleagues, students, and family, and folders of special correspondents.

Series II, Class Notes, Boxes 9-11:

Notes taken by AWC as a student; translations of foreign and classical literature, and analyses of books. Notes go back to 1900. Some were taken in courses under still-famous professors of the past.
