

United Automobile Workers - Political Action
Department - Roy Reuther Files

Papers, 1947 - 1957
32 Linear Feet

Accession Number 191
LC Number

In 1948 John Livingston was director of the Political Action Department, and Roy Reuther was his administrative assistant. Mr. Reuther became director in early 1949, and Ralph Showalter was his assistant. There were two other members working in the main office - Edward Tonat and Salome Williams, who was the secretary. When Ralph Showalter left in June, 1952, he was replaced by Edward Purdy. In July, 1956, William Dodds joined the staff as assistant coordinator. In 1955 the name of the department was changed to the Political Action Committee, but there was no re-organization until August, 1957, when the name was changed to the Citizenship Department. For convenience of description, the Citizenship Department files are in a separate collection.

Series I. Elections, 1948.

Boxes 1-5.

Correspondence, press releases, reports, financial records, reports from UAW regional representatives, publicity material, clippings and handwritten notes. These records pertain to the general election campaign of 1948, and most of the material relates to U.S. Congressional campaigns. The records were created while Roy Reuther was the administrative assistant to John Livingston, who was director of the Political Action Department. The records are divided into two sections - Office Files which are arranged alphabetically, and UAW Regions, which are arranged numerically. To assist the researcher, the folder entries provide information about the geographical location of the regions. (For space purposes, some of the states within a given region are abbreviated. Those states which are abbreviated are ones in which the UAW did not actively engage in election activity.) At the end of each region, there are folders labeled election campaigns and correspondence with Congressmen. These records consist mostly of correspondence relating to U.S. Congressional elections. Most of the records in this series are dated 1948. A few of the records are dated 1947 and 1949. Because these records cover a limited time period, no dates are listed on the folder entries. Most of the records in this series relate to the role of the UAW in Congressional elections within each region, and this topic is well documented.

Boxes 16-29

Correspondence, reports, press releases, financial statements, handwritten notes, and clippings. Most of these records consist of correspondence with staff members of the departments, and to aid the researcher, there are secondary folder entries which indicate the names of the staff members. There is a large amount of correspondence with William Oliver of the Fair Employment Practices department and with Paul Sifton of the Legislative department. Much of the correspondence with Emil Mazey relates to election campaign contributions. Civil rights legislation and its enforcement, Kohler boycott, fund raising campaigns for Congressional elections and the visit of Roy Reuther to the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions' World Congress, July, 1957, are topics which are particularly well-documented.

Boxes 29-47.

Correspondence, reports, press releases, financial statements, handwritten notes and clippings. Most of these records consist of correspondence with staff members of the regions, and to assist the researcher, there are secondary entries which indicate the names of the staff members. There are some other records relating to citizenship councils, and local unions. With the exception of Michigan, there are records relating to election campaigns and to correspondence with U.S. Congressmen about their campaigns. These records are in folders which are placed at the end of each region. The records concerning congressional elections in Michigan are found in series ten. The records of series five are arranged numerically by number of region. The staff members are listed first and the other categories - citizenship councils, local unions, and elections and correspondence with congressmen are listed next. To assist the researcher, the folder entries provide information about the geographical location of the regions. For space purposes, some of the states within a given region are abbreviated. Most of those states which are abbreviated are ones in which the UAW did not actively engage in election activity. Most of the records in this series relate to the role of the UAW in congressional elections within each region, and this topic is well documented. There is a large amount of material concerning a factional conflict in local union 12, Toledo, Ohio, and an investigation into the business affairs of Richard Gosser, who was a member of this local union and a vice-president of the International UAW. The factional conflict and the Gosser investigation occurred in 1950.

AFL-CIO and CIO Departments and Committees, 1948 - 1957
Boxes 47-49.

Correspondence, reports, press releases, financial records, handwritten notes, and clippings. Most of these records refer to CIO departments. The first seven folders refer to AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education. Most of the records in this series are dated 1949 -1957; there is one record dated December, 1948. The records are arranged alphabetically. There is some documentation on family participation in elections; these records are found in folders labeled Political Action Committee - Women's Advisory Committee, and Women's Auxiliary.

Series VII.

AFL-CIO and CIO State Labor Councils, 1948 - 1957

Boxes 49-51.

Correspondence, reports, press releases and clippings. These records relate to state and local labor union councils. Most of the records relate to the Congress of Industrial Organizations, since, at the state level, most of the councils did not merge with the American Federation of Labor until August, 1957. Most of the records are dated 1949 - 1957; there are a few records dated December, 1948. They are arranged alphabetically by name of state, and at the end of the series, there is one folder labeled Regional Offices. A large portion of these records relate to the state of Michigan, and there is some documentation concerning the appointment of state government officials.

Series IX. Elections and Election Issues, 1950 - 1956.

Boxes 52-54.

Reports, press releases, voting records, drafts of speeches, handwritten notes, and clippings. These records were probably used as research material for speeches. There is little correspondence. The records relate to national congressional and presidential elections. Since the records are arranged chronologically by year of election, some folders may contain documents which are dated the year before or the year after the election. Some of the records in folders dated 1950 elections, for example, are actually dated 1949. There are some folders which contain material on specific issues, and secondary entries indicate them.

Series X.

Michigan Elections and Election Issues, 1950 - 1957.

Boxes 54-62

Correspondence, reports, press releases, election statistics, publicity material, handwritten notes, and clippings. These records relate to election activity within the state of Michigan, excluding the city of Detroit. The election material for Detroit is found in series eleven. The records of series ten are divided into two sections.

The records of section one pertain to election campaigns. They are arranged chronologically, and secondary folder entries indicate particular elections. These records relate to various state and congressional elections, and correspondence with candidates about their campaigns is included. Since the records are arranged by date of election, some folders may contain records which are dated the year before or the year after the election. Some of the correspondence in folders labeled 1950 elections, for example, is actually dated 1948 or 1949. Because this collection contains records dated until August 15, 1957, the records of the 1957 spring primary election are included in this series. All of the records relating to the 1958 elections are in the Citizenship Department Collection. The records of section two relate to campaign issues, and they are arranged alphabetically. There is a large amount of documentation on the governor elections, on voter registration in Wayne County, on fair employment practices legislation, on unemployment compensation legislation, and on proposals to reapportion state legislative districts. There is also documentation on primary elections.

Boxes 62 - 64

Correspondence, reports, press releases, election statistics, publicity material, handwritten notes, and clippings. These records relate to elections in the city of Detroit. They are divided into two sections. The records of section one pertain to election campaigns, and they are arranged chronologically by year of election. Since these records are arranged by date of election, some folders may contain records which are dated the year before or the year after the election. The records of the 1957 election are in the Citizenship Department Collection. The records of section two relate to specific campaign issues, and they are arranged alphabetically. There is a large amount of documentation on municipal elections, on a fair employment practices ordinance, and on housing programs.
