(Predominantly, 1920-1980)

73.5 linear feet
24 scrapbooks
30 drawer card catalog

Accession Number 1066
L. C. Number MS

The papers of the Kresge Historical Library were placed in the Archives of Labor and Urban Affairs as part of the papers of the Merrill-Palmer Institute in January of 1982 and were opened for research in April of 1986.

The Kresge Historical Library was first established as the Merrill-Palmer Historical Library. On December 12, 1960, the Merrill-Palmer Institute held a meeting that led to the formation of the Historical Library Committee. This committee, chaired by Dr. Icie Macy Hoobler, was responsible for establishing and administering the Merrill-Palmer Historical Library. The Committee also decided that the primary focus of the Historical Library would be to preserve historical publications concerning research in child development and family life.

The Merrill-Palmer Institute Historical Library in Child Development and Family Life was formally dedicated on October 30, 1961. On this occasion, the Edna Noble White Memorial Lecture was delivered by Dr. Lawrence K. Frank. This was the first in a series of annual Historical Library lectures which featured some of the nation's most prominent scholars in the field of child development.

The initial holdings of the Historical Library consisted of the Ernest R. Groves Collection, purchased by the administration of the Institute for the Library, together with pre-1945 books, periodicals, and other publications which had constituted the Edna Noble White Collection in the Institute's Research Library. The collection was expanded over the years through private donations since the Historical Library Committee did not have a budget allocated by the Institute.

At the outset, the Historical Library was housed in the Institute's Program Building which adjoined the administrative facility, the Charles Freer house. In 1965, Dr. Sibley Hoobler presented the Institute with a gift of money to restore the Gallery, once the famous Peacock Room of the house, for the use of the Historical Library. In May of 1966, Mr. Stanley S. Kresge gave the Institute a grant from the Kresge Foundation to complete the project. The Historical Library was officially re-named and dedicated as the Kresge Historical Library in Child Development and Family Life on May 7, 1967.

In 1960 the administration of the Institute also approved the establishment of an archives to assemble, catalog, and maintain the Institute's important historical records. Helen Barnes, the librarian of the Historical Library, with the help of Mary Sweeny, former faculty member, collected seventy linear feet of historical records from the files of the Institute's various departments and established the Merrill-Palmer Archives as part of the Historical Library.

The papers of the Kresge Historical Library reflect the administration and operation of the Historical Library which included the Merrill-Palmer Archives. The papers of the Merrill-Palmer Archives reflect the history of the Institute, its educational programs, research, faculty, staff, and students, from the establishment of the Institute in 1920 until its affiliation with Wayne State University in 1981.

Series I
The Merrill-Palmer Archives, 1911-1981
Boxes 1-140

Correspondence, newspaper clippings, pamphlets, publications, and reports relating to the Merrill-Palmer Institute. All of the material is concerned with the establishment and growth of the Institute. A large proportion of the files are publications relating to child development. The files are in the arrangement established by the staff of the Merrill-Palmer Archives. Since it would be impossible to return these records to their original location in the files of the Merrill-Palmer Institute, this arrangement has been retained. Files are arranged alphabetically by subject and then chronologically. Access to the files was provided by a card catalog. The card catalog is now located in the Reading Room of the Archives. Photographs indexed in the card catalog have been removed and placed in the Merrill-Palmer Audio-Visual collection, boxes 32 and 33.
