The Auxiliary Activities Office was organized to improve the efficiency of the Business Affairs Division as the increasing number of students placed more demands on the University's administration. Auxiliary Activities included the following units: Mailroom, Duplicating Center, Addressograph, Student Center, Food Services, Housing, and Bookstore. Lynd R. Allen, the Director of Auxiliary Activities at the time these records were created, reported to the Vice President for Business and Finance, David Baldwin and to the Associate Vice President for Business Affairs, James A. Lewis.

Additional files relating to Auxiliary Activities can be found in the collections of the Vice President for Business and Finance, David Baldwin; the Associate Vice President for Business Affairs, James A. Lewis; and the Office of the Bursar.

The papers of the Auxiliary Activities consist of budgets, correspondence, minutes, and reports relating to the administration of the Bookstore, Housing, thefts, and property insurance.
