It would be a pleasure to assure each senior that the days of study are over and the time for putting all of this study to remunerative use at hand. But there are bar examinations in September, and then another waiting period to get the results. And in a very important sense the days of study for a lawyer are never over. There is a significant change, however, in the attitude toward such study, for soon now each rule of law and question of fact will involve a client's freedom or pocketbook. You will have a much keener awareness of subtleties of the law, a more emotional attitude toward imperfections in the law. Those of us who have been in the "law" for a while envy you the fresh experiences which await you, and congratulate you on becoming a member of a most important and interesting profession.

... for people like this coed, for example. She carries her busy schedule without the financial worry her father's death might have caused. College to her is the wonderful experience it should be.

We suggested a testamentary trust to the father and his attorney years ago—one for his wife and each of his children. This kept the inheritance of each child intact at National Bank of Detroit, growing for its eventual turnover at pre-determined ages. Meanwhile, each youngster gets his schooling, and a business or marriage start from the estate income alone.

We'll be glad to talk with you and your clients about these and many other advantages of a trust relationship with National Bank of Detroit.
