

OOOF !

'Another Charley Fonville'. That's what the experts are saying about Walter Jenkins. Only a freshman, Jenkins has already broken the Wayne gym record with a prodigious heave of 47 feet-four inches. Jenkins is also a footballer who may be Coach Lou Zarza's answer to the fullback question.

Track

UP 'N OVER

Bob Smith, a pole-vaulter from Cooley is shown clearing the bar with something to spare. Under Coach Holmes' expert tutelege, Smith has been improving steadily.

With versatile Jim Little leading the pack at the half-way mark of the 880, it didn't look good for Wayne. But Julius Jones came up to win the race and John Palkowski (rear) also passed Little for second honors.

Luther Carter, straining to break the tape, just nips Jim Little of Central Michigan. Don Godbold, of Tartar football fame, easily takes third place as Wayne overwhelmed Central.

Swimming

HIGH DIVE-- Low ceiling apparently keeps Jack Mathews from going even higher as he dives during the Michigan State water meet.

FATHERLY ADVICE-- Coach Leo Maas Discusses son Leo Jr 's form after a short speed trial. Coach Maas led several Wayne pre-war teams to national honors and in the early 40's Wayne was ranked with Yale and Ohio State in the swimming world.

Arne Lakerkvist, Bill McDonough (sitting) Thad Sulisz, Jack Mathews.

These four men helped Wayne set nine pool records in a meet with Western Ontario. The Tartars also whipped Ohio University and Cincinnati while losing to powerful Michigan State.

Fencing

SABER SCENE--Action was heated during the NCAA Fencing finals held at Wayne for the first time.

VIDEO--For the first time in history, the National Collegiate Athletic Association fencing finals were televised. Shown here, Paul Williams of WWJ-TV describes one of Dick Watson's matches.

ET LA! Dick Watson proved the sensation of the meet. The roly-poly Tartar saberman won his first fifteen matches on opening day and then went on to take second place in the final standings. He combined technical skill and old-world color in a combination that was entertaining and nigh-on unbeatable.

Wintermart

An extensive publicity campaign was carried on for this year's Wintermart. Based on the theme of the 1849 Gold Rush, the Wintermart officials helped publicize the event by using devices like the reluctant donkey (above). Herman Frankel was chairman of the Wintermart committee.

A LA ALCOVE--The wronged girl has just righted herself by drilling the villain in one of the entertaining sideshows at the Wintermart. The '49 saloon was a popular attraction.

Lusty Leering

THE 'EYES HAVE IT'--Beware lady of those exploring eyes! It's all in fun and who would blame the smitten male for giving out with that sugary glance. It's just another sideshow at the Wintermart.

Cheesecake

LOUDMOUTH--Anything to get a crowd! That's the motto of the Gas House Gang at the Wintermart. (Note the 'Good old college humor!')

--- Wintermart

Spinning Wheel

Can Can Oui ?

23 Skidoo !!

SKETCH--A sheriff of the Old West does some expert sketching instead of 'fetching' at the Wintermart. Business was booming as visitor's from all over Detroit crowded the main building for two days to see the popular presentation.

Women's Recreation

DRAPE SHAPES--The gals have a complete program for keeping those trim shapes which men find so pleasing. Tennis, indoor baseball, badminton and just old-fashioned exercising are the order of the day in the Women's Gym.

Nice Form

SWINGING ALONG-- The proper way to swing a tennis racket is shown willingly here by the lovely line of athletic ladies. The gals are sure to keep their racket arm straight despite the disturbance of having flashbulbs popping .

Heads Up !

J - Hop

Everybody's Happy

VISITING ROYALTY--Governor G. Mennen Williams made an unheralded visit to Wayne University's annual J-Hop. It wasn't long before the Governor made his way to the J-Hop's lovely queen Ann Miller. The pair was soon joined by Dean Victor Spathelf and the rest of the court.

Fit for a Queen

DOWNCAST? --Governor Williams seems modestly to be keeping to the sidelines while master of ceremonies, Arlan Gitlin introduces Ann Miller.

MUSIC--Part of the throng that had itself a 'ball' at Masonic Temple during the J-Hop festivities.

Theatre

PERT--Peggy McCabe, wife of assistant theatre director, John McCabe, was a wonderful performer in Midsummer Night's Dream. The production drew excellent reviews from all sources.

MOB SCENE--Bruce Herbert as Marcus Antonius, shouts the famous "Friends, Romans, Countrymen" speech.

Headliners in the 'Dream'

Howell Eurich as 'Demetrius'

Shirley Flagler as 'Hermia'

Mary Alyse Kline as 'Helena'

Bruce Herbert as 'Lysander'

'No Time for Comedy'

In front: Herb Sharples, Tom Carling (unconscious) and Dave Kilgore. Looking on: Dale Chalk, Phyllis Lentula and Delores Andrus.

LIVELY--Puck bobs and weaves in and out of the lovely line of chorus girls in the Midsummer Night's Dream.

SPARKLING--The Glass Menagerie, starring Gene Rupert and Bernice Baumgartner was a well-liked production staged by the hard working Theatre Group.

PUCKER UP--'This kiss doesn't reassure me' says Mary Alyse Kline to George Rupinski in 'No Time for Comedy'. Light and easy to enjoy throughout, the production played to packed houses at the Circular Theatre.

Frat Nite

COME IN--A representative of Alpha Sigma Phi showing what his frat has to offer to a prospective fraternity man. 'Frat Night' is a yearly affair which seeks to acquaint new men with fraternity life.

PROUD--President Warren Fraleigh (center) surrounded by members of Phi Sigma Epsilon, proudly displaying their trophies won in various fields of fraternity competition.

GRADUATES

FAREWELL--One of the last pictures of former mayor Edward Jeffries was taken at 'Frat Nite' less than a month before the mayor was stricken fatally in Florida. He is shown talking with Dean Victor Spat-helf (with cup), Ed Blumberg (president of the Interfraternity Council) and other fraternity representatives.

IT'S GRAND--Science instruction at Wayne University suffered for years from lack of facilities. But with the construction of the Science Building (above) all sciences were given adequate space. On the first floor you find chemistry and physics labs, the second floor holds organic chemistry qualitative analysis labs. Botany, biology and physiology labs are located on the third floor and the fourth includes a greenhouse and aquarium.

DAME 'N GAME--The Student Center boasts spacious recreation quarters as this picture will verify. A young lady makes with a neat backhand shot while a hot pinocle contest flourishes in the background. Judging by the concentration shown by the card players--they don't seem to know there is a ping-pong match in progress.

GUESS AGAIN--Nope it's not what you think. This lovely young lady IS sitting at a bar--but it's the Student Center soda bar. The bar was closed most of the spring term because it lost about $70 a day.

PLUNK--Strumming his "git-tar" Carl Sandburg, poet-biographer, sang folk-songs, told incidents in the life of Lincoln and explained his own works to students in a filled Rackham auditorium.

BASEBALL

John Wingo

REARING BACK-- The two hurlers picture on this page own the best chance of getting a starting assignment from Coach Joe Truskowski. Zeke Vogt, who hails from Fowlerville Michigan, the hometown of the always remembered Charley Gehringer, is counted on to carry the No. 1 hurler's tag. (Above), Another sure to start Wayne pitches is John Wingo who is a dead ringer for the Tiger's ailing Hal Newhouser. John hopes the resemblance doesn't end with the physical resemblance.

NURSING

BUSY-- Working in the reference library at Wayne are Shirley Graves, nurse Carolyn Manning and Barbara Reyburn

LUCKY BUNNY--Caring for one of the rabbits in the bacteriology laboratories of Wayne University are Nellie Schrier, nurse Mary Ann Malkovich and Dorothy Witte. The girls are studying at Butterworth Hospital at Grand Rapids in a co-operative plan with Wayne.

WEIGHTY PROBLEM-- These nurses-to-be are learning to measure food for an imaginary patient's tray and (above) how to measure blood pressure

ART SHOW-- Arlan Gitlin, left, shows a group of students one of the exhibits at the Mackenzie Union Art Show. The third floor of Student Center was used as the museum to display student's work and several awards were made.

DRIVE-- A book's for athletes drive was inaugurated this year and helped to relieve some of the financial burden from Wayne's athletes. Lois Downs is shown handing a text to football end Hal Beardsley while Coach Lou Zarza, (center) looks on approvingly.
