THE HARVEY O'CONNOR COLLECTION

99 Manuscript Boxes

Processed: April, 1968
By: JSH

Accession Number 245

The papers of Harvey O'Connor were deposited with the Labor History Archives in October 1967 by Mr. O'Connor.

Harvey O'Connor was born March 29, 1897 in Minneapolis, Minnesota. He attended high school in Tacoma, Washington. During the period from 1918-1924 Mr. O'Connor did editorial work in Seattle. From 1924-1927 he was assistant editor of Locomotive Engineers Journal in Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. O'Connor was a bureau manager for Federated Press from 1927-1930. And from 1935-1937 he was managing editor of People's Press. He was also editor of Ken from 1937-1938 in Chicago.

Mr. O'Connor has been active in the following organizations: Pittsburgh Civil Liberties Committee, board member, 1932-1936; Chicago Civil Liberties Committee, vice-chairman, 1937-1944; Emergency Civil Liberties Committee, chairman, 1954-1963; National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee, chairman, 1963; and City Club of Chicago, member of board of governors, 1938-1944.

Mr. O'Connor has written the following books plus a number of articles: Mellon's Millions, 1933; Steel-Dictator, 1935; The Guggenheims, 1937; The Astors, 1941; History of Oil Workers International Union, 1950; The Empire of Oil, 1955; World Crisis in Oil, 1961; Revolution in Seattle, 1963. He has also written pamphlets for Union for Democratic Control, London, England. And from 1957-1960 he was on the editorial advisory board of Nation.

In 1954 Mr. O'Connor was cited for contempt in the McCarthy investigation. He was convicted but the decision was reversed by the U.S. Court of Appeals. In 1958 he refused to respond to subpoena of the House Un-American Activities Committee and was cited for contempt and indicted but has not been brought to trial. He died in 1987.

Mr. O'Connor has traveled in Latin America, the Near East, Europe, and Russia.

Mr. O'Connor is presently living in Little Compton, Rhode Island.

The Harvey O'Connor Collection covers the period from 1927 to 1967.
