

THE SAMUEL RABINOVITZ COLLECTION

Papers, 1966-1979

1 linear foot

Accession Number 1055

The papers of Samuel Rabinovitz were placed in the Archives of Labor and Urban Affairs on August 10, 1981 and were opened for research in August of 1988.

Rabinovitz, a resident of Ann Arbor, Michigan, was director of the Michigan Youth Commission for twenty years. He also served on a number of special state study and citizens committees in the fields of delinquency and crime prevention, migrant labor and school drop-out problems. He was appointed to the Board of Directors of the National Child Labor Committee in 1967 after his retirement from the Michigan Youth Commission.

The National Child Labor Committee was chartered by Congress in 1907. This national non-governmental organization is concerned with programs and services that deal with the problems youth face in preparing for and finding suitable employment. It functions in an advisory capacity as well as providing staff, training and program evaluation and advocating for improvements in policy and practice.

The papers of Samuel Rabinovitz reflect his work on the National Child Labor Committee and, to a much lesser degree, his involvement in community affairs.

Important subjects covered in this collection are:

J.P. Stevens Boycott
Migrant Children

Job Training
Policy and Practice of National Child Labor Committee

Among the important correspondents are:

Eli Cohen
Ruth La Var

Jeffrey Newman

An index to subjects and correspondents will be found on page 4.
