

UNITED AUTOMOBILE WORKERS - INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS DEPARTMENT

VICTOR REUTHER AND LEWIS CARLINER COLLECTION

Papers 1962-1968

(Predominantly 1963-1964)

30 Linear Feet

Accession 488

The papers of the United Automobile Workers - International Affairs Department, Victor Reuther and Lewis Carliner were placed in the Archives of Labor and Urban Affairs in 1971 and 1979.

The International Affairs Department was created in December, 1955, shortly after the merger of the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations. Originally, the International Affairs Department was part of the Washington Office, and there is an earlier collection in the Archives of Labor and Urban Affairs.

The primary concern of the International Affairs Department was to coordinate the activity of the United Automobile Workers with free trade unions around the world. Victor Reuther directed this department until he retired in April, 1972, and from May, 1958 until December, 1968, Lewis Carliner worked as his assistant.

Most of the records in this collection are dated 1963-1964. There are some records dated 1965-1968, but many of the records for these years appear to be missing. There are a few items dated 1962, most of which are attached to correspondence dated in early 1963.

Lewis Carliner left the International Affairs Department in December, 1968, and in 1969, Herman Rebhan succeeded him. The records of the International Affairs Department are continued with the files of Victor Reuther and Herman Rebhan. For further information, the researchers should check this collection.

In 1966, the Executive Board of the UAW created a Social, Technical, and Education Program (STEP) division within the International Affairs Department. However, there are very few records relating to this Program in this collection.

Important subjects covered in this collection are:

Correspondence, reports, press releases, minutes, transcripts, clippings and published material. These records were created by Victor Reuther and Lewis Carliner. They relate to their work with the agencies of the federal government, with the House of Representatives, and with the Senate. Particular well documented is their work with the Agency for International Development and with the Peace Corps in the economic assistance programs for the underdeveloped countries. There is some documentation on the Japanese Labor Exchange Program. The records dated 1963-1964 seem to be complete, but most of the records from 1965-1968 are missing.

Series V
Boxes 23-26

Correspondence, reports, press releases, speeches, drafts, and clippings. These records were created by Victor Reuther and Lewis Carliner. Many of these files consist of routine office correspondence. However, some records in the Education Department folders document participation in the United Nations Conference of 1963; records in the Free World Labor Defense Fund folders list contributions to private organizations; some correspondence in the folders labeled President consist of letters from Walter Reuther to foreign officials; and correspondence in another folder labeled President discusses the Merlin Bishop controversy of 1933. The records of this series are divided into two sections. The records of the first section relate to the departments, and they are arranged alphabetically. The records of the second section relate to the regional offices, and they are arranged numerically. The records dated 1963-1964 seem to be complete, but most of the records dated 1965-1968 are missing.

Series VIII
Boxes 31-50

The records of this series are arranged geographically. They are divided into the following sub-series:

- 8A Western Europe and Canada.
- 8B Eastern Europe and Soviet Union.
- 8C Middle East.
- 8D Africa.
- 8E South Asia.
- 8F East Asia.
- 8G Southeast Asia.
- 8H Pacific Ocean Islands.
- 8I Central America and Mexico,
- 8J South America.
- 8K Atlantic Ocean Islands.

Within each sub-series, the records are arranged alphabetically by name of country.

These records were created by Victor Reuther and Lewis Carliner. They describe the economic, political, and trade union conditions throughout the world. The conflict between the communist and democratic factions within each country is particularly well documented. The records dated 1963-1964 seem to be complete, but many of the records dated 1965-1968 are missing. For a continuation of the developments mentioned above, consult the UAW International Affairs Department Collection 1969-1972 - files of Victor Reuther and Herman Rebhan.

Sub-Series 8A
Boxes 31-39

Correspondence, reports, press releases, speeches, drafts, notes, lists, newsletters, and clippings. These records describe the economic, political, and trade union conditions of the countries of Western Europe. The conflict between the communist and democratic factions within these countries is particularly well documented. Some of the records in this sub-series relate to international trade unions, especially the International Federation of Chemical Workers. These records are placed under the countries in which their headquarters are located, and secondary folder entries list the names of the unions. At the end of the sub-series, there is one folder of records concerning the European economic community.

Series IX
Boxes 51-58

Correspondence, reports, minutes, agendas, press releases, drafts, clippings, and other research documents. These records were created by Victor Reuther and Lewis Carliner. Most of them relate to UAW participation in conventions and meetings of the International Metalworkers Federation. There is a large amount of documentation concerning the Twentieth and Twenty-first Conventions (World Congresses) and the Fifth and Sixth World Automotive Conferences. There are many clippings and other research records concerning the world-wide automobile industry which were assembled for the Sixth Conference. Other records relate to meetings of the Central and Executive Committees as well as to various departments and offices especially to the Automotive Department and to the Inter-America Office Conference in 1963. The records dated 1963-1964 seem to be mostly complete. Although there are many records on the World Congress, 1963 and on the Automotive Congress, 1963, many of the records dated 1965-1968 are missing. The records of this series are divided into three sections:

1. World Congresses.
2. Committee meetings between World Congresses.
3. Departments and offices.

For a continuation of the records relating to UAW participation in the International Metalworkers Federation, consult the UAW International Affairs Department Collection, 1969-1972.

Correspondence, circular letters, minutes, reports, drafts, and press releases. These records were created by Victor Reuther and Lewis Carliner, and they relate to the participation of the UAW in conferences and meetings of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions. The records of this series are fragmentary and much of the material seems to be missing. There is, however, good documentation on the Executive Board Meetings, 1967-1968, on the controversy over continuing UAW affiliation as a result of the split with AFL-CIO; and on the World Youth Rally, 1963. These records are arranged alphabetically. For a continuation of the UAW relations with the ICF TU, consult the UAW International Affairs Department Collection, 1969-1972.
