The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) designated Wayne State University as the official repository for its inactive records in 1974. The papers of Gerald W. McEntee (Executive Office) were deposited in the archives through a series of shipments from 1982 – 1996. The AFSCME President's Office Collection comprises the Federation's Executive Department and International Affairs Department, which are located within the AFSCME headquarters in Washington DC.

Gerald W. McEntee is the International President of the 1.4 million-member American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, one of the most aggressive and politically active organizing unions in the AFL-CIO. Since 1998, nearly 250,000 public service workers have joined AFSCME through organizing campaigns.

Gerald W. McEntee was born in 1935, and came from a labor family. His father, William J. McEntee, was instrumental in the first organizational drive of Philadelphia Municipal Workers in 1937, and was President of AFSCME Council 33.

McEntee graduated from LaSalle College with a degree in Economics before joining AFSCME as an organizer for Council 33 in 1958. Working his way up through the ranks, he was responsible for the largest organizational drive in Pennsylvania, organizing 75,000 workers throughout the state. The idea for state organization, which would fall under the auspices of the soon to be created Council 13, occurred during a meeting with then AFSCME President Jerry Wurf. Wurf took a chance on McEntee and gave him AFSCME Headquarter funds to complete the drive. In order to organize workers, McEntee had to navigate not only the often-contemptuous relationships between unions, but also state politics.

The organizational campaign was a grassroots operation, with McEntee, and those associated with him (later named the McEntee Raiders), going door-to-door to organize workers as well as conducting letter-writing campaigns to AFSCME locals in Pennsylvania, and made speeches to union leaders and rank-and-file members. Using as leverage the passage of Act III in 1968, which gave uniformed public employees the right to collectively bargain, McEntee promoted the right to negotiate all public employees.

This era was known as the "Philadelphia Wars." Through McEntee's efforts, both on the streets and in the State capital, all public employees in Pennsylvania were given the right to collectively bargain on July 23, 1970 with Act 195. In February of 1973, the founding convention of Council 13 was held, and McEntee was named its Executive Director. In an unparalleled move for AFSCME, all other state councils reported to Council 13, giving McEntee full control over Pennsylvania's Public Employees. McEntee remained loyal to his promises of no givebacks, and forced the state legislature to yield with the threat of a work stoppage in July of 1973. McEntee was also elected an International Vice President of AFSCME in 1974.

McEntee continued to organize workers and run Council 13 until he was elected President of AFSCME in what was called, "a very spirited," contest against Secretary-Treasurer William Lucy in 1981. The election came about during an emergency board meeting when the President Jerry Wurf died unexpectedly in 1981. Immediately upon election, McEntee launched into a tirade against President Reagan, and promised, "We will recognize the financial hardships local governments may have, but we are not in the business of give-backs.” McEntee was 46 years old when elected. AFSCME had 1 million members.

The new president represented a new brand of labor leader, one who was savvy both on the streets and within the halls of state and federal governments. He continued to organize workers while a member of the AFL-CIO Executive Council and a Vice President of AFL-CIO in 1981. Four years later, in 1985, he was elected president of the Public Employee Department in the AFL-CIO. In 1995, he was among a group of new union leaders who ousted Lane Kirkland from his presidency at AFL-CIO, and replaced him with their ally John Sweeney, who was then president of the growing Service Employees International Union. At this time, McEntee became Chairman of the influential AFL-CIO Political Committee, where he masterminded an elaborate $35million campaign fund to reverse Republican control of Congress.

Under McEntee's leadership, the federation created its highly successful and much imitated voter education campaigns, which helped increase the number of union household voters to a record 26 percent of the electorate in 2000 (up from 19 percent in 1992).

McEntee backed Arkansas Governor William Clinton earlier than other labor unions in the 1992 U.S. Presidential Campaign during his election campaign, a move Clinton did not forget. He was a close confidant of Clinton and regularly met with former Vice President Al Gore. As McEntee has long been a leader in the fight to reform the nation's health care system, President Clinton named McEntee to serve on the Presidential Advisory Commission on Quality and Consumer Protection in the Health Care Industry in 1997. McEntee has also been heavily involved with pay equity and International Affairs, and was arrested along with Yolanda King, daughter of Martin Luther King, Jr., for protesting apartheid outside the South African Embassy in Washington DC.

During this time, McEntee was also instrumental in the creation of the labor think tank, the Economic Policy Institute, and remains its Chairman. He has also served as Director of Board of Trustees of the Pennsylvania Health and Welfare Fund; is Vice President of Americans for Democratic Action; is a member of the board of the American Arbitration Association; a member of the Democratic National Committee; and is a member of the Democratic National Committee Labor Council. McEntee is also a regular contributor to the online blog “The Huffington Post.”

Heavily involved in legislative affairs, McEntee has led efforts to strengthen and improve such workplace standards as the minimum wage, the Occupational Safety and Health Act, the Fair Labor Standards Act, and the Family and Medical Leave Act. For his efforts to improve the lives of working families, the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights presented McEntee with its prestigious Hubert H. Humphrey Award in 2004. McEntee continues as President of AFSCME, which now has 1.4 million members.

Abstract

Gerald McEntee was elected as AFSCME's President in 1981 after the death of his predecessor, Jerry Wurf. Prior to serving as AFSCME's President, McEntee worked as an AFSCME organizer and union official in Pennsylvania. McEntee served as AFSCME's president until his retirement in 2012. Please see the abstract included in Part 1 of this collection for additional biographical information.

AFSCME worked to find its place in a shifting economy and social landscape in 1990s and 2000s. Under McEntee's leadership, AFSCME focused on issues such as welfare reform, Medicare and Medicaid, Affirmative Action, Social Security, efforts to increase the federal minimum wage, and, later, workplace protections for gay and lesbian employees. The union continued to focus on political organizing, aiming to help elect officials who would support the needs of workers and public employees. In response to changing classification policies for public employees, the union also looked to organize workers in industries such as home care while increasing organizing efforts in traditional public employee roles. With other member unions, AFSCME participated in AFL-CIO campaigns to rejuvenate the labor movement in the 20th and 21st centuries.

Part II of the AFSCME Office of the President: Gerald McEntee Records consists of documents created mostly between 1996 and 2003, while the bulk of Part I was created between 1981 and 1995. As a result, Part II contains evidence of AFSCME's reactions to changes in the labor movement in a post-NAFTA economy. These changes are evident in the internal functions of AFSCME's Executive Office, affiliates, and in the union's work within the AFL-CIO and allied organizations. Documents include correspondence, memoranda, reports, meeting minutes, handwritten notes, budgets, flyers, invitations, surveys, photographs, and a VHS tape.

Arrangement

The collection is arranged into 4 series.

Folders in each series are simply listed by their location within each box. Please note: folders are not arranged, so any given subject may be dispersed throughout several boxes within each series.

Series 1: Internal Administration, 1981-2004 (Box 126-151)

This series contains materials related to communications between various AFSCME headquarters departments and the Office of the President under Gerald McEntee. Subjects include departmental reorganizations, convention planning, relationships with political figures, staff policies and procedures (including pensions), activities of the International Executive Board, political surveys and political planning documents, and AFSCME's relationship with Public Services International. The series also includes correspondence, memoranda and reports related to issues affecting AFSCME members, such as Affirmative Action, Social Security, and welfare reform. Several files document the planning process for Solidarity Day II in 1991. Formats in this series include memoranda, correspondence, reports, meeting minutes, hand-written notes, agendas, talking points, and flyers. Files are grouped alphabetically and then by creation date.

Series 2: State, Local, and Council Files, 1995-2003 (Box 151-170)

This series contains material related to the Office of the President's relationship with AFSCME affiliates at the state, local, and district council level, including affiliates in Puerto Rico and Panama. The majority of material in this series consists of correspondence between affiliates and headquarters on organizing, staff, and administrative issues. Memoranda, reports and invitations are also significant portions of the series. Some of the documents in this series are related to grievances or administratorship records at the local level. Many letters include notes from President McEntee indicating his answer to the given letter or memoranda. Files are grouped by year and then alphabetically by state.

Series 3: AFL-CIO Internal Files, 1996-2003 (Box 171-185)

This series contains materials related to AFSCME and President McEntee's participation in the AFL-CIO. As leader of one of the largest unions in the organization, McEntee participated in numerous committees and groups charged with steering AFL-CIO strategy. This series represents the AFL-CIO's efforts to navigate the effects of the North American Free Trade Agreement, a long-term shift toward a more service-based economy, and changing priorities in inter-union relationships as illustrated by The New Alliance and other AFL-CIO campaigns. Some materials relate to AFL-CIO Article XX and XXI cases, which are jurisdictional disputes between member unions. Materials in this series include memoranda, correspondence, reports, meeting minutes, and notes. Files are grouped by year and then as they were originally arranged by AFSCME staff in categories: Correspondence, Affiliates/Non-affiliates, Article XX, Article XXI, AFL-CIO Departments, AFL-CIO Executive Council Meetings.

Series 4: Associations, 1996-2003 (Box 185-191)

This series contains materials documenting the Office of the President's relationships with various organizations outside of AFSCME and the AFL-CIO. These include political organizations, such as the Democratic National Committee, governmental organizations, such as the United States Department of Labor, and community organizations, such as the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). Some of the organizations with very few items are listed by the organizations' first letter, as arranged by AFSCME staff. The bulk of this series consists of correspondence and invitations, but material related to meetings or policy-making is also present. Files are grouped by year and then alphabetically.
