The papers from the Program Development Department were placed in the Archives of Labor and Urban Affairs in May of 1977 by the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME). Part I was opened for research in March of 1986.

The AFSCME Program Development Department was created in January of 1973 to deal primarily with such matters as health care, the deinstitutionalization of the mentally fragile, employee protections, career development and sex discrimination, and with the Coalition of Labor Union Women (CLUW). It was funded by federal grant money, and from 1973 to May 1975 Linda Tarr-Whelan was the Deputy Director. She was succeeded by Nancy Perlman who was named Acting Director. By late 1975 its source of funding had so diminished that the department was disbanded. Its several functions were taken over by other AFSCME departments.

Part I solely reflects the department's concerns with women's issues, sex discrimination, and CLUW and other groups.

Abstract

The AFSCME Program Development Department was created in January of 1973 to deal with matters such as health care, the deinstitutionalization of the mentally ill, employee protections, career development, and sex discrimination. It was funded by federal grant money until 1975 when the funds ran out, the department was disbanded, and its several functions were taken over by other AFSCME departments. The AFSCME Public Policy Analysis Department became responsible for the deinstitutionalization issue, and the career development aspect of Program Development was covered by the AFSCME Research Department. Career Development, Inc. was created in 1979 as AFSCME's nonprofit entity to apply for federal grant money. Beginning in the late 1990s, this grant organization changed names to AETI (AFSCME Education and Training Institute). The work done by the Program Development Department on sex discrimination was taken over by a succession of AFSCME departments devoted to women's issues.

The records in Part II of this collection contain the administrative records of the Program Development Department head and staff. A large portion of Part II is devoted to subject files, which illustrate the broad scope of the Department's focus. Part II also contains records pertaining to the Department's efforts to prevent the decentralization of mental health institutions and to protect the employees that worked in those facilities. Files on other health care related issues are also included in Part II. A few files related to Women's Issues that were missed when processing Part I also appear.
