Abstract:	This collection includes the administrative, teaching, performance, and fundraising records of the Detroit-Windsor Dance Academy (DWDA) from 1986 to 2020. DWDA is a non-profit dance school established in Detroit in 1984 by Debra White-Hunt and Bruce Hunt. In addition to offering a wide variety of dance classes for children and adults, DWDA sponsors and participates in many community activities locally and nationally. Materials in this collection include class schedules, student and instructor training information, performance programs and booklets, PR and publicity clippings, audition notes, annual reports, photographs, and correspondence. There are many documents from the DWDA annual dance concerts and the "Crystal Ball" annual fundraisers. One box of audio-visual materials (videotapes, DVDs, CDs) has been placed in the Reuther Library AV Department.

Biographical / Historical

The Detroit-Windsor Dance Academy (DWDA) is a non-profit dance school based in Detroit that provides training for youth and adults in all disciplines of dance and dance ministry. Its classes include ballet, jazz/funk, tap, hip-hop, acro, modern, ballroom, liturgical, belly, and jit. DWDA sponsors and participates in many community activities locally and nationally. DWDA was established in 1984 by Debra White-Hunt and Bruce Hunt. As artistic director and executive director, respectively, they have developed the academy into a well-recognized and award-winning institution. Debra White-Hunt has taught dance for more than 60 years and has danced on 5 continents, as well as creating choreography for many stage and film projects. In recent years, White-Hunt has been a Kresge Artist Fellow, a Kennedy Center Fellow, and was inducted into the Michigan Women's Hall of Fame (2021), as well as being awarded Michiganiaan of the Year and the Inaugural Ace Award from the Arts and Cultural Center of Detroit.
