Medical History Card Catalog

5 linear feet

Wayne State University's medical library transferred to the University Archives an incomplete card catalog relating to medical history, education, and biography and a collection of medical articles and reprints. The compiler of the catalog was probably Fanny J. Anderson.

This collection primarily consists of articles and reprints written by Detroit physicians, many of whom were faculty members of the Wayne State University School of Medicine and its antecedent colleges. There are also several addresses. The material is filed alphabetically by author and then is in chronological order. Each citation consists of author, title, and date of publication.

The medical history card catalog "covers material relating to the medical history of Detroit and includes references to Wayne County, Michigan, and the United States if they have any bearing on Detroit history." Entries on the catalog cards and in Anderson's Medicine in Detroit and Michigan, 1837-1940: A Bibliography are frequently similar and often identical. However, subject entries are different. The researcher should consult both the Bibliography, which was obtained from the Shiffman Medical Library in 1979, and the catalog cards received from the library in the early 1960s. The Bibliography and the medical biography book catalog described below are located in the reading room with the reference materials.

The biography section of the card catalog was retained by the Archives until 1979. At that time it was learned that the Shiftman Medical Library had previously retyped the catalog and used a book rather than a card catalog format. Mary McNamara, Shiftman Medical Library, loaned the book catalog to the Archives. Since the entries were identical, the catalog cards were destroyed and a copy of the book catalog was made. The compiler of the biography catalog was probably Fanny J. Anderson. Sources cited are predominately from the late 1800s to approximately 1950.
