Scope and Content

Wayne State University Dean of Students Office, Student Organization Records documents the activities of registered student organizations at Wayne State University dating back to The College of the City of Detroit, one of the university's antecedent institutions. This includes academic, cultural, governmental, leadership, political, professional, recreational, religious, service, and social organizations. Greek life is particularly well-represented as the collection contains files for numerous sororities, fraternities, and Wayne State's Panhellenic Council. In addition, many files document student movements at Wayne State and activism related to political and social issues. Evidence of student activities and campus life is found throughout the collection as it documents programs and events on campus hosted by or in collaboration with student organizations.

This collection contains correspondence with members of student organizations, the Dean of Students Office, staff and faculty advisors, and national organizations; constitutions and by-laws; rosters and membership lists; budget requests including statements of activities; newspaper clippings; publications produced by the student organization and their national headquarters; fraternity housing surveys; annual reports; student organization reports; violation reports; contracts for events and services; and narrative histories of organizations.
