HYMN TO WAYNE

To thee, our Alma Mater,
Homage we bring.
Brave hearts raise grateful voices
Thy praise to sing.
Young art thou, young and strong;
Renowned shalt thou live, and long;
Honors to thee will throng—
And Fame to thee cling.

We laud thee, Alma Mater,
Guardian of Right.
Thou art our guide, our mentor—
Thy name shines bright.
Keep Learning's light aflame,
And hold Truth a sacred name,
Honor, thy steadfast aim.
All hail to thy might!

FOR THE HONORARY DEGREES

DOCTOR OF ARTS IN SOCIAL WORK

ELIZABETH WILKINS LIVINGSTONE

B.A.

Escort: Dean Charles B. Brink

Elizabeth Wilkins Livingstone, a native of Detroit; a graduate of Vassar College; since 1952, she has been Director of Public Information and Education for the United Community Services of Detroit.

After ten years in business, she has devoted her entire career to the work of the social agencies. Her skillful interpretation of their programs has enabled clients to utilize them more advantageously. For the contributors has come new understanding of human needs and appreciation of the functions of the agencies, and, thereby, greater financial and volunteer support.

As Detroit has continued to guide the nation in the community conception of the social services, in the wide participation in gathering funds for more adequate programs, much credit must be given to the dedicated, skilled leadership of this outstanding citizen.

DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS

OSKAR MARIA GRAF

Escort: Professor Erhard Dabringhaus

Oskar Maria Graf, a native of Germany, since 1938 a resident of New York City; former President of the German-American Writers Association, and Member of the P.E.N. Club of America, he is the author of thirty-five novels, volumes of short stories, essays, and poems.

His formal education through private studies was tested and enriched by a life-experience reflected in his great autobiography Prisoners All, as varied and dramatic as that narrated in any of his novels. From his youth he has worked at many jobs, tramped and traveled, observed and written. Possessed of a rare narrative skill, he is a spinner of tales that grip the reader for they deal with "blood and earth". His philosophic essays are the distillation of clearly conceived principles; in his poems is the finely tuned music of his response to life.

Three times a voluntary exile for his courageous resistance to the Nazi regime, he was ultimately deprived of his German citizenship. Today, resident in America, he is a regular contributor to the leading newspapers of the West German Federal Republic, and is honored as one of the greatest writers in modern European letters. As his works continue to be translated into other languages, the universality of his genius gains ever wider recognition.

DOCTOR OF HUMANITIES

LAWRENCE MCKINLEY GOULD

B.S., M.A., Sc.D., LL.D., L.H.D.

Escort: Dean Victor A. Rapport

Laurence McKinley Gould, a native of Michigan; a graduate of the University of Michigan, earning the doctorate in 1921; until 1923, a member of the faculty; joining the staff of Carleton College as Professor of Geology, he became President in 1945.

CANDIDATES FOR HONORARY DEGREES—Continued

For thirty years he has participated in the geological exploration of remote earth areas, written books, monographs, and scientific articles on Antarctic problems, and served as Officer and Consultant to the Army Air Forces. During the International Geophysical Year, he has been the Coordinator of Antarctic research programs for twelve nations. Honored by universities, learned societies, and governments as one of this country's most distinguished geophysicists, he serves as a valued member of the boards of philanthropic and scientific foundations dedicated to the support of scientific research and to the advancement of teaching.

To the burdens of college administration, he has brought the skill and imagination of his scholarly and scientific work. Under his wise leadership and dedicated concern, Carleton College has become one of the finest private colleges in the United States, recognized for its high academic standards, for its fine student counseling services, and for its successful integration of traditional and experimental educational programs.

ROGER LACEY STEVENS

Escort: Dean J. W. Menge

Roger Lacey Stevens, a native of Detroit; one of this country's most successful real estate brokers, he is also, an Organizer of the Producers Theatre and Member of the Playwright's Producing Company, Broadway's outstanding play producer.

Deeply interested in the problems of urban re-development, he has helped to change the face of many American cities. His encouragement of a sound combination of private ownership, government cooperation, and functional architecture has eliminated slums and brought new life to blighted areas across the country.

His dedication to the welfare of the American theatre has rarely been matched. For ten year he has backed Shaw and Shakespeare revivals, experimental productions, and promising young playwrights. The soundness of his judgment and the excellence of his taste are reflected in the many box-office successes credited to his personal concern with the details of production. But no play he has ever staged exceeds in dramatic interest his own life's portrayal of an American dream — a great business man who is also a distinguished patron of the arts.

DOCTOR OF LAWS

WALTER FREDERICK CAREY

B.A.

Escort: Mr. Homer D. Strong

Walter Frederick Carey, a native of Detroit; a graduate of Wayne University in 1926, he is now President of Automobile Carriers, Inc., of Flint, Michigan. For more than thirty years associated with trucking, transport, and carrier services, he has been President and Board Chairman of the American Trucking Association, and of the Foundation.

In addition to the heavy demands imposed by his many business enterprises, he has assumed a full measure of civic responsibility: to his church and its national affiliates, to the budget work of national philanthropic associations, and to his country as counselor in transportation and traffic safety.

To Wayne State University he has given dedicated leadership: as President of the Alumni Association, Board Chairman of the Wayne University Foundation, and of the Alumni Fund. His generous gifts of time and talent have frequently taken the equally important but less conspicuous form of wise counsel and support to individuals, for projects and programs essential to the growth of the University. The University recognizes with special pride the achievements of one of its most loyal and distinguished alumni.

*In the several colleges and schools of the University where it is customary to recognize outstanding achievement with special notice, an asterisk before a candidate's name denotes attainment of a high scholastic average. The official list of graduates cited for "distinction" or "high distinction" will be compiled subsequently and their diplomas will carry the appropriate notation. This practice is not observed in the College of Education or at the Graduate level.

The appearance of a name on these lists is presumptive, but not conclusive evidence of graduation.

ON CAPS, GOWNS, AND HOODS

One of the most colorful features of an academic procession is the appearance of the graduates, the faculty, members of the governing board, and guests of the University in full academic costume. These caps, gowns, and hoods have long histories and their patterns and colors have special significance.

The gown recalls the time when all students in centers of higher learning were clerics, that is, members of the clergy, and therefore wore the garments which the Church considered proper for them.

The custom of wearing a cap comes from the Roman usage of conferring the right to wear a cap upon slaves when they were granted their freedom. At Scottish universities, such as St. Andrews, doctors are created by a ceremony called "capping" in which a cap is placed on their heads.

In modern universities, the distinctive mark of a degree is the hood. In its earliest form, the hood was simply an article of wearing apparel. The churches and lecture halls of European universities were cold, drafty places, so scholars wore hoods merely as head coverings, sometimes attached to a cape, sometime worn separately.

American universities, unlike those of England and Europe, have adopted a standard code of academic costume. The cut and material of the gown, the color of the tassel on the cap, and the pattern and colors of the hood all have special significance.

Each person who is to receive a degree wears the gown appropriate to the degree to be granted. If he already holds a degree, he wears the hood of that degree, not the one he is to receive.

Bachelors' gowns are closed at the throat and have long pointed sleeves. Masters' gowns are open in front and have long sleeves, square and closed at the end, the arms coming through slits near the elbow. Doctors' gowns are faced with velvet and have full, round sleeves. Each sleeve carries three bars of velvet, called chevrons.

The most colorful part of the costume is the hood. The color of the lining identifies the university which granted the highest degree held by the wearer. The color of the velvet trim indicates the faculty or department of learning in which the degree was earned.

The following table lists the color appropriate to each of the different branches of learning.

HYMN TO WAYNE

To thee, our Alma Mater,
Homage we bring.
Brave hearts raise grateful voices
Thy praise to sing.
Young art thou, young and strong;
Renowned shalt thou live, and long;
Honors to thee will throng—
And Fame to thee cling.

We laud thee, Alma Mater,
Guardian of Right.
Thou art our guide, our mentor—
Thy name shines bright.
Keep Learning's light aflame,
And hold Truth a sacred name,
Honor, thy steadfast aim.
All hail to thy might!

DOCTOR OF HUMANITIES

RUKMINI DEVI ARUNDALE

Escort: Professor Leonard Leone

Rukmini Devi Arundale, born in South India; former member of the Indian Delegation to UNESCO, Member of Rajya Sabha (Upper House of the National Legislature); President of Bharatiya Netya Sangh (Theatre Centre) of Madras; she is one of India's greatest dancers and patrons of the arts.

For more than thirty years she has been a leader in the revival and exposition of Indian art forms. As Director of the Arundale Training Centre for Teachers and as Chairman of the Madras State Sangeetha Sangam (Organization for Music), and as Founder of the Kalakshetra (Art Centre) she has developed programs in the arts to which talented students from all parts of the world are attracted. In 1958 she was a most gracious and helpful hostess to the Wayne State Theatre Touring Company.

The restoration of the art of Bharata Natya, the oldest and most complete of the dance systems of India, is largely the result of her perseverance. In the period before India's independence, when this form of dance was in danger of being lost and dancing itself was considered disreputable, she gave performances of Bharata Natya based on extensive research and demonstrated to the public that this ancient dance of South India was one of the great cultural heritages of the nation.

Author, artist, lecturer, interpreter of the richness of the arts of India to many nations which have given her their highest honors, she is today recognized as one of the great women of the world.

DOCTOR OF LAWS

MORRIS ADLER

B.S.S., M.H.L.

Escort: Dr. Harold A. Basilius

Morris Adler, born in Russia but long a naturalized citizen of the United States; a graduate of City College New York and of the Jewish Theological Seminary; author of GREAT PASSAGES FROM THE TORAH and a contributing editor of THE RECONSTRUCTIONIST.

In his service as National Chaplain of Jewish War Veterans, leader of the Brandeis Camp Institute, Member of the Executive Board of the National Academy of Adult Studies, and of many other committees concerned with welfare and education, he has given distinguished and dedicated leadership in social action.

As President of the Detroit Zionist Organization and Vice-President of the Jewish Community Council, and as Member of the Labor-Management Citizens Committee, he has met his civic responsibilities fully and with wisdom and has always sought fearlessly for the common good.

An exemplar in his own life and work of the beauty and dignity of the ancient law and of the integrity and social conscience commended in the prophets, he is honored by many as Rabbi of Congregation Shaarey Zedek since 1938, but for the University community he is honored as a great citizen of the whole community.

CLEVELAND THURBER

A.B., LL.B.

Escort: Dr. James P. McCormick

Cleveland Thurber, distinguished Detroit lawyer; graduate of Williams College and the Harvard Law School, his wise counsel and vigorous leadership have significantly aided the growth and development of such diverse institutions as the Henry Ford Hospital, the Detroit Bank and Trust Company, THE DETROIT LEGAL NEWS, Parke, Davis and Company, and the Merrill Palmer Institute.

He has been Chairman of the Wayne County Welfare Commission, of the Legal Aid Committee of the Detroit Bar Association, a Director of the United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit, the Metropolitan Detroit Building Fund, the Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council, Inc., and the Greater Detroit Hospital Fund; and is a director and officer of the McGregor Fund. In each of these agencies, he has been a major voice in interpreting the needs of the community and in directing the wise expenditure of funds.

Many men have sought to enrich their communities by ennobling the lives of their fellow citizens; few men have matched the quiet, selfless devotion of time and talent which he has given to the community and which this University is proud to recognize as the spokesman for a grateful community.

The official list of graduates cited for "distinction" or "high distinction" will be compiled subsequently and their diplomas will carry the appropriate notation. This practice is not observed in the College of Education and in the Graduate School.

The appearance of a name on these lists is presumptive, but not conclusive evidence of graduation.

ON CAPS, GOWNS, AND HOODS

One of the most colorful features of an academic procession is the appearance of the graduates, the faculty, members of the governing board, and guests of the University in full academic costume. These caps, gowns, and hoods have long histories and their patterns and colors have special significance.

The gown recalls the time when all students in centers of higher learning were clerics, that is, members of the clergy, and therefore wore the garments which the Church considered proper for them.

The custom of wearing a cap comes from the Roman usage of conferring the right to wear a cap upon slaves when they were granted their freedom. At Scottish universities, such as St. Andrews, doctors are created by a ceremony called "capping" in which a cap is placed on their heads.

In modern universities, the distinctive mark of a degree is the hood. In its earliest form, the hood was simply an article of wearing apparel. The churches and lecture halls of European universities were cold, drafty places, so scholars wore hoods merely as head coverings, sometimes attached to a cape, sometimes worn separately.

American universities, unlike those of England and Europe, have adopted a standard code of academic costume. The cut and material of the gown, the color of the tassel on the cap, and the pattern and colors of the hood all have special significance.

Each person who is to receive a degree wears the gown appropriate to the degree to be granted. If he already holds a degree, he wears the hood of that degree, not the one he is to receive.

Bachelors' gowns are closed at the throat and have long, pointed sleeves. Masters' gowns are open in front and have long sleeves, square and closed at the end, the arms coming through slits near the elbow. Doctors' gowns are faced with velvet and have full, round sleeves. Each sleeve carries three bars of velvet, called chevrons.

The most colorful part of the costume is the hood. The color of the lining identifies the university which granted the highest degree held by the wearer. The color of the velvet trim indicates the faculty or department of learning in which the degree was earned.

The following table lists the color appropriate to each of the different branches of learning:

APRICOT	NURSING
BROWN	FINE ARTS
BLUE—LIGHT	EDUCATION
BLUE—DARK	PHILOSOPHY
COPPER	ECONOMICS
DRAB	BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION
GOLD—YELLOW	SCIENCE
